THE HOLY COMMUNION. f 1 Cor. Xi. 26. As often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord s death till he come. To complete our view of the form of worship ordinarily observed in our Church, nothing would now remain, but to turn our attention to that portion of the Communion-service, which is appointed to be said on Sundays and other holidays, when there is no Communion: but, since no religious ordinance can be more important in its design, or more solemn in its form, than that of the holy Table (which, indeed, in primitive See Rubric at the end of the Communion-service. times, was an indispensable part of the daily service, and is still celebrated, in many of our churches, on every sabbath), we shall do better by extending our observations to...
